Mayor's Message

ICE Enforcement Aftermath & Community Response [2:33]

Discussion Summary

Mayor David Morse addressed the aftermath of a recent surge in ICE (U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement) activity in the city, describing a large community mutual-aid response. Project Home estimates roughly 100 Westbrook households may be at risk of eviction because household members were unable to work during the surge. The Mayor met with Governor Janet Mills and neighboring mayors to urge state-level action on downstream effects, and encouraged residents in need to contact the City's General Assistance department, noting a drop in requests he attributed to fear of coming forward.

Fire Department Staffing, Casella Update & Upcoming Items [7:00]

Discussion Summary

Fire Department: two paramedic/firefighter vacancies drew four fully qualified applicants; with two retirements anticipated later this year, Fire Chief Stephen Sloan requested and received approval to hire all four, temporarily raising authorized staffing from 46 to 48 until the retirements occur. The temporary cost is funded through TIF (tax increment financing) funds for the Spring Street and Waterstone districts, confirmed eligible after legal review.

Casella Waste: the Mayor met with Casella representatives about the service complaints raised at the prior meeting; Casella outlined process and training changes, with a follow-up meeting scheduled for spring to confirm progress.

Upcoming: Project Manager Robyn Saunders will give her annual city-projects update at the Feb. 23 meeting; Riverwalk North field work (test borings near Reserve, King, High, and Garfield streets) begins this month to assess soil/slope conditions for the project's design.

Key Decisions

Action Items

PFAS Update — GPCOG Memorandum of Agreement

[12:09] Project Manager Robyn Saunders outlined the funding path for PFAS soil testing at three sites (Fraser Field, Warren Field, and the Westbrook High School fields). The City's own EPA Brownfields assessment grant remains ineligible because the City authorized biosolid sludge application at these sites back in 1984 (though it's still unconfirmed whether that sludge was actually applied). Greater Portland Council of Governments (GPCOG) holds its own EPA Brownfields grant and has agreed to fund the testing instead.

The City will negotiate a Memorandum of Agreement with GPCOG memorializing the scope of work previously presented by Credere Associates — confirming the presence or absence of PFAS in soil above Maine DEP's remedial action guidelines, using both horizontal (incremental surface sampling) and vertical (deep soil boring) methods — plus site-restoration commitments, a regional communications plan for any detected PFAS levels, and DEP reimbursement of lab costs. A report is expected around May 2026, with a Council update likely by June. Saunders also shared the latest EPA guidance on PFAS health effects — reproductive effects, developmental delays in children, and altered cholesterol, hormone, and immune/vaccine response — noting effects vary by the specific compound found. The MOA itself will come to Council for authorization at the Feb. 23 meeting.

Key Decisions

✓ Informational — no vote taken.

Personal Property Tax Outreach

City Field Appraiser Sara Larity — Business Outreach Initiative [17:26]

Discussion Summary

In her first presentation to the Council, City Field Appraiser Sara Larity outlined a new proactive outreach effort to improve business compliance with annual personal-property-tax declarations, citing a currently low response rate and underuse of the BETE/BETR tax-relief programs (Business Equipment Tax Exemption/Reimbursement). Planned actions include a postcard reminder, an improved mailer, a digital Excel reporting template, coordination with the City Clerk's office at business-license issuance, and in-person outreach during final inspections.

Council Messages

Snowplow Ride-Along & Community Resources [21:04]

Discussion Summary

Councilor Gary Rairdon described a four-and-a-half-hour ride-along with the City's snowplow crew during the prior week's storm, praising their coordination and skill ("my new name for them is Snow Placement Technicians").

President Munro echoed the Mayor's remarks on the ICE enforcement aftermath and listed community resources: Cater to Community (Mr. Bagel), Westbrook Families Feeding Families, the Locker Project, the Westbrook Food Pantry, Food For All Services (Portland), the Immigrant Legal Advocacy Project (ILAP), the Maine Immigrant Rights Coalition (MIRC), Project Relief, and Maine Needs, plus a school-sponsored basic-needs food drive collecting donations at the Transportation Department, Monday–Friday 9:30–2:00.

Public Comment (First)

Matthew Brunner (Stillwater Drive)

Reappointed this evening to the Recreation & Conservation Commission (see Resolve 2026-07 below), Brunner used public comment to advocate for filling the commission's two vacant alternate seats, specifically recommending Phil Spiller.

> “There is no one with the know-how, the knowledge, and the passion for this in this city like there is, and it's Phil Spiller['s]... At this point it just seems to be like a personal vendetta because people don't like the way he posted about a park project on Facebook.”

— Matthew Brunner (public comment) [26:47]

Chris Dudley (18 Haskell St.) — A Follow-Up to the Jan. 12 Suppressor Debate

Speaking without naming the councilor, Chris Dudley criticized a council member's response to a public commenter at the Jan. 12, 2026 Special Council meeting who had said she saw gun accessories as “toys for men.” For reference, that public commenter was Oriana Farnum and the councilor's remarks were Councilor Anna Turcotte's — both quoted in full in this site's January 12 summary.

> “On January 12th, multiple members of the community spoke on their concerns with the police getting suppressors. The final speaker concluded her comments and then lightheartedly said, I'm not into guns, I see them as toys for men. Later, in response to the public's concerns, a councilor started by questioning the motives of the people speaking that day. That councilor went on to say that whoever said guns are toys for men clearly does not live in the real world... I appreciate all those men with guns that protect us and make this country the safest in the world. We're not the safest in the world. No entity that tracks safety data has this up in the top twenty-five. Let me be clear why I'm here: I'm disappointed that no one on the city council said anything... Civil discourse has a guiding principle. Don't make it personal. The public respected that. The council as a whole did not. Is that what we should expect from our elected officials? Please tell me you're better than this.”

— Chris Dudley (public comment) [28:53]

No councilor responded to this comment on the record at this meeting.

Orders of the Day — Two Readings Required

Order 2026-09 — Emergency Replacement — Fire Department Gas Meters [50:16]

Found on page 246 of the packet.

Discussion Summary

Confirms an emergency $20,607.85 purchase of replacement multi-gas meters and calibration equipment from Bergeron Protective Clothing (Epsom, NH) for the Fire Department. These three meters, among several already slated for future CIP (Capital Improvement Plan) replacement based on anticipated end-of-life, failed outright and needed immediate replacement under the City's mayoral emergency-purchasing authorization.

Key Decisions

✓ Passed first reading, unanimous roll call, 6–0.

Action Items

None.

Order 2026-10 — Emergency HVAC Repairs — Public Services Facility [52:38]

Found on page 250 of the packet.

Discussion Summary

Authorizes contracts with ABM Mechanical of Westbrook, ME ($43,688) and Maine Controls of Portland, ME ($11,350) for emergency HVAC repair. Boiler 2, one of two roughly 10-year-old Bosch condensing natural-gas boilers with a poor maintenance history (from a now-discontinued Bosch product line), blew its cover off in late December and shut the system down, leaving the building running on the single remaining boiler at 56–64°F for about a month. Rather than repair only the failed unit (~$66,000) or just its heat exchanger (~$16,000, with risk boiler 1 could fail similarly), the City opted for full replacement of both boilers with Lochinvar units, along with a Tridium JACE control-system upgrade originally slated for the FY 2027 Capital Improvement Plan — moved up to avoid reprogramming the old, soon-to-be-unsupported controls twice.

Key Decisions

✓ Passed first reading, unanimous roll call, 6–0.

Action Items

None.

Order 2026-11 — Emergency HVAC Repairs — Walker Memorial Library [59:42]

Found on page 255 of the packet.

Discussion Summary

Authorizes a contract with Patriot Mechanical of Gorham, ME ($43,636) for emergency HVAC repair. A 16-year-old heat-pump condenser's control board failed; since a replacement control board would have cost over half the price of a full new condenser on aging equipment, the City opted for full condenser replacement. The first unit shipped was incorrect by the warehouse; a correct replacement was pending at meeting time, with indoor temperatures in the 50s and low 60s (°F) in the meantime.

Key Decisions

✓ Passed first reading, unanimous roll call, 6–0.

Action Items

None.

Order 2026-12 — Landslide Vulnerability Project — Policy Development Services

[1:04:39]

Found on page 259 of the packet.

Discussion Summary

Authorizes an agreement with Camoin Associates, Inc. (Richmond, VA, with local representatives in Scarborough, ME) for policy development services related to the Landslide Vulnerability Project, not to exceed $90,000 — the final phase of a multi-year project following the 2020 Presumpscot River landslide to understand and mitigate landslide-susceptibility hazards.

Key Decisions

✓ Passed first reading, unanimous roll call, 6–0.

Action Items

None.

How this was made

This summary was produced from the meeting video (linked above, hosted on the City's Vimeo showcase). The audio was downloaded with Downie 4 and transcribed with speaker diarization using MacWhisper. Claude (Anthropic's AI) cross-checked names and figures against the official packet and the city council roster, attributed speakers from context (introductions, roll-call order, direct address by the presiding officer) rather than the raw diarization labels alone, and drafted this summary and the quoted excerpts. Quotes are lightly cleaned of filler words/false starts but not reworded. Review tier: Not reviewed.
